Young Farmers Tour Set Tuesday

by ARCHIE E. BOYD, JR.

The Comanche County Young Farmer Association will hold their third annual educational tour at 1:00 p.m. Tuesday, August 11. The purpose of the tour is to help the chapter members and the general public see the farming and ranching practices in our own area.

The first stop of this year's tour will be at the Hill Hereford Ranch to see outstanding Herefords raised by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill. The show herd and breeding cattle from the ranch will be seen. Bill Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, was formerly a member of the Comanche Young Farmer Chapter before moving to Houston.

The second stop of the tour will be to see a brush chained pasture on the Gibson Ranch. The Gibson Ranch is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gibson about four miles west of Sidney. They raise Beefmaster cattle on their ranch. A rest stop will be held for the tour at the Gibson Ranch home. Members of the Comanche County Young Homemakers Association will assist Mrs. Gibson with the refreshments for the members of the tour.

After leaving the Gibson Ranch the tour will go to the Norman Moore farm to see his work with Coastal Bermuda. A field of 40 acres of peanuts that is progressing nicely on soil that is progressively covered with native Bermuda last year will be discussed.

The last stop of the tour will be on the Ira Clemmons farm to see a pasture of around 100 acres of Coastal Bermuda that is about 4 years old. The stop at the Clemmons farm will end the tour and the group will travel back to Comanche.

The Young Farmer Chapter invites the general public to come along and see the farming operations of your friends and neighbors. The tour will assemble around the Comanche Vocational Agriculture Building at 12:45 p.m. on Tuesday, August 11, and will leave at 1 o'clock. Make plans to participate in this study of progress.

ASC Committee Nominations Now Being Accepted Here

Farmers are being reminded that states of nominees for membership on ASC community committees soon will be established at the Comanche ASCS County Office. And a special effort is being made to secure the greatest possible participation of eligible voters in the election.

William F. Bryant, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Comanche County Committee, said today that farmers who are eligible to vote in the committee elections also have the right to nominate as candidates for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve. Such petitions, signed by six or more eligible voters, may be filed at the County Office any time before August 17, 1964.

Additional nominations may be made by the incumbent ASC community and county committees, if these are required or determined desirable.

"We want the best men available to serve on our ASC committees," Chairman Bryant declared, "because the committee system is the backbone of farm programs—those dealing with conservation of soil and water, as well as the price support activities in various commodities. In the last couple of years, the farmer-elected committee system unique in the history of agriculture, has come under considerable scrutiny. As a result of intensive study by official groups, the system is not only being retained, but has been greatly strengthened."

A "farmer eligible to vote in the committee elections," according to the chairman, is generally a farmer who is taking part or is eligible to take part in one or more of the national farm programs which the ASC committee helps to administer. A person eligible to hold office as a committeeman—among other qualifications—is a local resident who is eligible to vote in the election. Further information on these and other qualifications may be obtained from the ASCS county office.

September 8, 1964, is the date set for electing 1965 ASC Community Committeemen and delegates. Voters will cast their votes in this election by mail or in person at the Comanche County ASCS Office, P.O. Box 32, Comanche, Texas.

The following communities have been established for 1965: Community E: De Leon and Oliver Springs. Community F: Sidney, Beattie, and Sipe Springs. Community H: Comanche and Newburg. Community J: Proctor, Lamkin and Wilson. Community L: Gustine.

Each community election will choose three community committee members and two county alternates. The chairman, vice chairman and regular members of the elected ASC community committee will also serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate and second alternate delegate to the county convention to be held in the county seat, where the ASC county committee will be chosen.

All-Stars Second In 2 Tournaments

Comanche Little League All-Stars took two second places in tournaments entered the past week, in San Saba and De Leon.

In the San Saba tournament the locals won two and lost one, winning 12-0 over Goldthwaite, and 6-5 over Blanco. In the final game the Comancheans dropped a 11-4 decision to San Saba.

Robert Jackson of San Saba and Marion Kirkland, Comanche, ran a very close race for the tournament pitching honors. Jackson won out and received the most valuable player award. Due to the fact that Comanche was entered in two tournaments, the team was split Saturday night. Part of the team played in the San Saba tournament, and the other team played in the De Leon tournament.

De Leon Tournament
Comanche Little League All-Stars split in the De Leon tournament with a win and a loss, but still took their consecutive second place in a week. The locals won, 7-5, over Gorman Saturday night, Aug. 1. In the finals, Comanche team lost 7-5 to Stephenville in the Monday night, Aug. 3 finals in the De Leon tournament.

We deeply appreciate this compliments that many of our readers of this department passed on to us concerning what we had to say about our 15-Day Escorted Greyhound Bus Tour to the World's Fair in New York City, in last week's issue of The Chief.

The fact that we spent only four nights of the 15-day tour in New York City as compared to eleven nights elsewhere would about correctly indicate the relative importance of the World's Fair to the rest of the trip in regard to enjoyment and information.

Man-made "sights" seldom equal and rarely excel those made by God through Nature.

But just as man and God working together can grow a prettier rose in a cultivated garden than is possible to find in the uncultivated rough spots of nature, just so you will see at the World's Fair things you would have believed impossible when the last World's Fair was held in New York during the period of 1939-1940.

The present New York World's Fair of 1964-65 is divided into two sections of 6 months each.

The first session will run from April 22, 1964 through October 18, 1964.

Next year the Fair will run from April 21, 1965 to October 17, 1965.

The location of the present World's Fair is the same as that of the one held 20 years ago, rising out of the one-time misty bogs of Flushing Meadows, Long Island. It is a congeries of some 175 separate pavilions and structures, bold and startling towers, domes, buttresses, pylons and other architectural fantasies, amply accommodated on 645 acres—a show place, nine times as big as the Seattle Fair of 1962.

Admission Prices
Those of us who made the escorted tour did not have to pay to enter the Fair. We could come and go as we wished as this had been taken care of by the Greyhound Bus Company.

Regular admission prices are $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children, ages 2 through 12. A book of 20 tickets for adults can be purchased for $30, and $15 for children.

The Fair runs every day including Sundays and holidays with the gates opening at 9:30 a.m. and the exhibits at 10 a.m.

You can stay as long as you want to, but the exhibits close between 10 p.m. and midnight.

How to Get to the Fair
1. You can drive your car to the Fair if you wish, by following the "arrows".
2. There are three subways in New York, covering 236.7 miles. But believe it or not, you can get to the Fair from any point in the city by subway for only 15c.

3. You can also ride the bus to the Fair Grounds for 15c from any point within the city.
4. But if you go by taxicab the price is considerably higher, being 25c for the first one-fifth mile and 5 cents for each additional one-fifth of a mile.

5. If you want to pay the price, you can also reach the Fair by helicopter or by boat. It is estimated that about a half-million people will go to the Fair grounds by boat.

Inside Costs
Most of the attractions at the Fair are free and it is estimated that you can see three-fourths of everything at the Fair free. The Fair estimates that the avering adult visitor will spend $7.20 per day at the Fair, including food; and the average child will spend $5.45.

Where to Stay
We did not have to worry with the problem of where to stay while in New York, as reservations had been made in advance by the Greyhound Company.

For the protection of visitors, 350 of the best hotels and motels of the city, signed a contract not to raise their prices during the Fair. If you are planning a trip by auto, for reservations, write "New York World's Fair Housing Bureau, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 10020."

Where to Eat

We did not find the meals in the Fair Grounds much higher than similar dinners elsewhere on the tour. There are some 75 restaurants including 31 operated by the Brass Rail Corporation, catering to all budgets and appetites. Food ranges from foot-long hotdogs to an exotic "Thai" buffet.

Seeing New York City
We attended two escorted bus tours throughout New York City and received greetings from New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who presented us with a folder telling us what to see while in New York. The Mayor's message said in part:

"Welcome to the City of New York, the world's most exciting all year round vacation center. We New Yorkers who live and work here are happy to share the many splendid attractions of our city with all who visit us, especially during the Fair."

"The Statue of Liberty in our harbor is symbolic of the welcoming extended to all. With its many nationalities living here in peace, harmony, and progress. New York is a fitting home for the United Nations and an appropriate national and international meeting place for all the people."

"This year we take pride in welcoming visiting people from all over the world to the New York World's Fair. This great exposition, dedicated to peace through understanding, will show man's achievement in an expanding universe."

"Many nations are represented in the vast panorama of the educational, industrial, cultural and scientific exhibits."

"On the lighter side, recreation areas, restaurants, rides, and other entertainment contribute to making this the greatest fair of all times. We New Yorkers are proud of our town and you will find here a real spirit of friendliness."

On the tour of Midtown Manhattan, we either visited or had pointed out to us, the following attractions:

Little Church Around The Corner, officially known as Church of The Transfiguration. It has been the scene of thousands of weddings. It also contains stained glass windows and other memorials to famous actors who have worshipped there.

We passed by but did not visit

Pennsylvania Station, located at Seventh Avenue and 33rd Street, is the world's busiest railroad station and is a focal point of Mid-Manhattan area. Movements of the trains will not be interrupted as a new Madison Garden Center rises on the site of the old structure.

Nearly everybody who goes to New York for the first time, goes to the top of the Empire State Building. It is the world's tallest building. Most of our crowd went to the top. The 102-story building, constructed in 1932, is 1,472 feet high, including the 220-foot TV transmission mast. The world's famous observatory affords a 50-mile view, including portions of four states. It is open 9:30 a.m. to midnight except Christmas Eve. Admission to adults is $1.50 and 75c for children—free to us on the tour.

Metropolitan Opera House, at Broadway and 39th Street, is the home of one of the leading opera companies of the world. The deceptively plain exterior conceals a richly decorated auditorium whose stage has been a goal for opera artists since 1883.

We had been in the United Nations Building before. This time we just viewed it from the outside. It occupies an 18-acre tract between First Avenue and the East River from 42nd Street to 48th Street. Designed by an international team of leading architects, it includes the 39-story Secretariat Building, the domed General Assembly Building, a Conference Building and the Library Building.

The building and grounds contain sculpture and other works of art donated by member nations.

In the United Nations Building history is made daily as the representatives of the 111 nations work daily to settle international disputes. You can visit the session of the United Nations if you are lucky to get a permit on the basis of first come, first served.

One hour of guided tours at frequent intervals are available every day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at a cost of $1.00 per adult and 50c for students. The tour is free to ministers and members of the U. S. Armed Forces. We did not make the tour on account of lack of time, and we suppose also of a policy of "no paid tours on the trip."

Hendrick Gusline

Hendrick, 67, Gusline, died Friday, July 24, in a Comanche nursing home.

Plans have been completed for the eighth annual show and sale of the Central Texas Registered Angora Goat Breeders Association to be held in Goldthwaite on Thursday, August 29.

Sifting of the bills and does was done in Goldthwaite last Tuesday by Arthur Davis, nationally known goat judge from Uvalde.

Col. V. Z. Cornelius, president of the association, announced this week that the sale this year will offer the finest selection of bucks and does to be found anywhere.

Consignors brought in 295 bills from which 125 were selected for the sale. Eighty-five does were brought in for sifting and 35 of them were selected for the annual sale.

A number of observers present in Goldthwaite for the sifting declared that this would represent the best consignment of Angora goats to be found at any sale, private or otherwise.

The Central Texas association is made up of members from a seven county area. The consignments to the sale will represent all counties, which were well represented by members at the sifting.

Counties represented with members in the association include: Mills, San Saba, Lampasas, Coryell, Hamilton, Comanche, and Brown.

Don't throw away that old card table. Shorten the legs of the table and put it away for the next picnic that calls for sitting on the ground. It's great for serving food at the beach. The food stays out of the sand, but within easy reach of the swimmers gathered around.

Comanche Youths Back From Baptist Assembly & Side Trip To World's Fair

Contributed by Sandra Prather

Three Comanche youths, Mary Childs, Buddy Prather and Sandra Prather, were privileged recently to participate in a chartered bus trip to Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly, Ridgecrest North Carolina, and then on a side trip to the New York World's Fair.

The trip was sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

The 41 tripsters, including 10 sponsors, left Baton Rouge at 7:00 a.m. on the morning of July 8, arriving late that evening in Gadsden, Alabama for an overnight stop.

July 9 began bright and early for the group. But the traveling ceased at 5:30 that afternoon with the arrival at Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly, a summer assembly owned and operated by the Southern Baptist Convention.

It is situated high in the middle of the scenic Blue Ridge Mountains.

Here six wonderful, activity-filled days were spent. The week of July 9-15 was designated as Training Union Leadership Week. During the conference there was special emphasis on the importance of a Training Union program in the Baptist Churches of today.

In the morning and evening there were special sessions for each age group, from the Nursery Department on up to the Adult Department. By doing this, each member of a family can benefit and learn according to his interest and age. These sessions were on various topics, including Church Recreation, Administration, Church Architecture, Evangelism and Senior Adults. Each night, services were held in the main auditorium for everyone to attend.

Each afternoon was left free for each person to do as he pleased. There were many activities available, including swimming, canoeing, hiking, shuffleboard, tennis, volleyball, and softball. Also, there were planned tournaments between the different states represented. (These tournaments tended to create a great rivalry between the states).

As you can see, there is much offered at Ridgecrest and one never goes lacking for something to do. Each person in the group left knowing that he had received a spiritual benefit as well as intellectual and recreational benefits.

On the afternoon of July 15, the week's conference adjourned and the chartered bus pulled out of Ridgecrest — destination New York City. After spending the rest of the day and that night on the bus, the tripsters arrived in New York City early the next afternoon. After checking into the hotel, the group split up and went either to Yankee Stadium, a tour of Radio City or shopping. That night several attended the filming of the show "Password".

The next day was spent arriving at the fair grounds via the subway, everyone was on his own to see as much as he could.

Most of the entire day was spent walking and waiting in line. But all you can hope to see in one day is most of the major exhibits, including the automobile exhibits (Ford, Chrysler, General Motors), G.E. Building, IBM Exhibit and others.

Even though most of the foreign countries and the U.S. states have exhibits and pavilions, it was almost impossible to see them all; so you went only to the ones that interested you most.

Even though everyone was nearly exhausted by 10:00 that night, all agreed they had a wonderful day and that the fair could not be beat.

Saturday, July 18, was spent touring the city. Most everyone chose to take a bus tour, as that seemed to be the most economical way to see New York City. This tour proved to be very interesting and educational. Among the things seen on this tour were upper and lower New York, the Bowery, Harlem, China Town, St. John's Episcopal Church, the Empire State Building, Statue of Liberty, and many, many other sights.

On Saturday night, several attended the Broadway show, "Here's Love". The show proved to be very good and thoroughly enjoyable.

A three-hour boat trip around the island of Mathatten was taken on Sunday morning. By doing this, we were able to see the city from the waterfront and several other sights along the Hudson River.

After this boat trip, the bus was loaded once again and the long journey home was begun.

Baton Rouge, Louisiana was reached late on the afternoon of July 21. The Comanche trio arrived home on July 22, after having spent a glorious two weeks at Ridgecrest and New York City and after making many, many new friends.

AUSTIN (Spl.) — Archie E. Boyd, Jr. and Elam Miles, Vocational Agriculture teachers in Comanche High School, will participate in the Statewide In-Service Education Workshop for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture, August 4-7, according to George Hurt, State Director of Vocational Agriculture. ### Brush Control

Individual tree treatment methods using 2,4,5-T in oil can be continued. Chaining will probably result in a higher percentage of sprouts at this time, since the soil is dry and most trees will break off rather than be pulled out of the ground. Total plant kill from root plowing should be very high at this time but all existing forage plants would also be destroyed. Aerial application of herbicides should not be considered at this time.

Weed Control

It is too hot and dry to use herbicides for weed control. With weeds making little if any growth, it may not pay to mow at this time. An adequate soaking rain would change the mowing picture.

service education programs will be finalized by teachers during these meetings ture, however. Livestock Management During prolonged drouth when all forage has been consumed, it may be more economical and certainly less damaging to range-land to place livestock in one small pasture or in a feedlot for emergency maintenance. This will prevent weight by livestock moving over a pasture for a bite to eat as they vent grubbing out by the overgrazed forage.

Co-Ops Can Now
Generate Own
Power Says Court

AUSTIN, July 29—The statutory right of electric cooperatives to generate their own power was reaffirmed July 29, in a ruling by the Third Court of Civil Appeals at Austin.

The decision reverses in part the judgement of 126th District Court Judge Jack Roberts in a case filed by the Attorney General of Texas against Upshur-Rural Electric Cooperative of Gilmer. The suit, brought on behalf of Southwestern Electric Power Company, Shreveport, sought to prohibit Upshur from constructing its own generating plant at Ore City near Gilmer in northeast Texas.

Upshur proposes to generate its own power for distribution to its members rather than continue to buy wholesale energy from Southwestern.

A loan for the construction was approved more than a year ago by the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington.

Southwestern attorneys argued that the proposed plant would be in violation of the Texas law under which electric cooperatives are incorporated since members of Upshur already are receiving "central station service" since the power distributed to them by their cooperative comes from an established private utility.

The appellate court's decision rules that the lower court erred in its interpretation of that part of the law.

J. R. Cobb, General Manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives, state wide association of rural electric systems, said, "It is gratifying that the Court of Civil Appeals has reaffirmed the right of electric cooperatives to generate their own power, a right specifically granted by Texas law, over the efforts of those who would make of rural electric systems captive customers for all time. We feel this part of the appellate court's decision clarifies the prerogative of electric cooperatives to make decisions for the benefit of their member-owners without being challenged by prejudiced interests who desire to further solidify their monopoly in the supplying of electric power."

College News

Richard I. Lane wrote us from Houston this week that he was getting two Chiefs each week. He also sent along the information that the School of Optometry at the University of Houston in which he is enrolled, has grown so much since the school has become State-supported that they will be moving next month to a much larger and improved building. He suggests that any Comanche student interested in Optometry talk to Dr. James Slider. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ide Lane, Rt. 3, Comanche.

From Gardena, California, we had a nice letter from our former neighbor and friend, Betty Durham Lilley, asking us to change her Chief from Waco to Gardena. Betty and her husband, John Lilley, made the California move so John could enter the University of Southern California in September to work towards a Doctorate in Sacred Music. John received his Masters Degree in Sacred Music from Baylor University at the end of the first session of summer school in July. While attending school John also will serve as Minister of Music at the Calvary Baptist Church in Gardena. Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Durham.

Prior to leaving July 26th for training in the Marine Corps Reserves in Quantico, Virginia, Jim Jarratt joined thirteen members of his fraternity, Chi Delta Eta, at the Lake Brownwood home of Dale Wheelis for a summer get-together on July 25-26. All thirteen of the boys are students at Austin College in Sherman. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jarratt, Comanche, and Dale is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Wheelis of Brownwood.

President E. J. Howell has announced the appointment of Miss Mary Jane Boyle of Warren, Ohio, to the Tarleton State College faculty effective September 1 as instructor of speech. Miss Boyle, who studied under Paul Baker at Baylor University's Dallas Theater Center, taught English at Brenau College in Gainesville, Ga. in 1962-63. Among roles she has played are "Kate" in Taming of the Shrew and "Medea" in Medea. She also played in The Matchmaker, A Phoenix Too Frequent, St. John, Visit a Small Planet, and others.

Carolyn Schrader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Schrader, Rt. 3, Comanche, was among the 47 incoming freshmen students participating in the first of two summer orientation and pre-registration clinics held Friday and Saturday, July 24 and 25, at Howard Payne College in Brownwood. In addition to orientation, testing, counseling and registration sessions for the incoming students, there was an opportunity for parents of the students to meet administrative staff members and faculty of the college.

A new language laboratory is being set up at Howard Payne College to aid in the teaching of modern languages, announces E. Phillips, head of the department. Selection of equipment is in process and construction should start in the near future. It will be installed in one of the college buildings on Flisk Avenue formerly occupied by the business department. The business department is being moved into a new, renovated brick building recently purchased and moved onto campus. The language laboratory will be used to supplement classroom teaching of Spanish, French and German.

Information comes from Baylor University, revealing two Comanche youths lettered last spring. The Bear track squad, Harold Kins, sprinter, and Bob Carter, middle-distance, were let by Track Coach Clyde Hart. Old, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Perkins, will return to Baylor this fall as a junior. Bob, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Carpenter, re-enroll in Baylor as a sophomore. Both are currently employed by the Comanche County Electric Co-operative, Assn.

Foreman for the week-end were Foreman from Austin College, Sherman; and Stanley Rau from the University of Texas at Austin. Jerry visited with his wife, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Foreman, and his father, E. THE COMANCHE CHIEF

Deep in the Heart of Texas.
The hostess is great but sometimes late Deep in the Heart of Texas."

(Note: If the hostess is really ever late, it is because she has gone back to hunt some fellow's suitcase who forgot to put it on the bus.)

All 32 of us who were passengers on the bus became such good friends that we wanted something to remember them by.
So Mrs. Wilkerson told them that if they would write something about themselves in her notebook that she would put it in The Chief. Some responded and this is what they wrote:

"I am Mrs. Madie Bode, 568
North Central Avenue, New Braunfels, Texas. I am a first grade teacher in the Goodwin Elementary School. I have one son and a darling granddaughter, six years old. I spend my extra time reading and I like to sew.
Love—Madie."

"My name is Phallie C. Barrett, Dallas, Texas, Supervisor for H. S. Kress & Company. I think we have had a wonderful trip and I just know it is having people like you two, who have helped make it that way. We will not forget your sweet smiles, kind words, and many more things that made you very close to our hearts. I hope you will have many more happy days ahead and we shall always think of you.
We wish you a happy 51st anniversary next July."

"My name is Mrs. Nelly Wyatt, 809 Williams Drive, P. O. Box 885, Breckenridge, Texas. My grandfather was a Texas war veteran. I am a native Texan born in Liveoak County October 3, 1898. I started teaching in 1916 and work for the telephone company during vacations. I finally quit teaching to devote my full time to the telephone company.
I retired October 31, 1962 after 42 years, 3 months and 12 days with the company. I have no family left except one brother and one tomcat named 'Snokey'.

My hobby is traveling and making cookies and watching television. I love my cat."

Q. P. Meadows, 2803 Cherry Lane, Austin, Texas, retired pharmacist. Best wishes to both of you." His wife, Zula Meadows, is a teacher in the Austin public schools.

"My name is Mrs. Katy Fielder, 709 Chickasaw, Grand Prairie, Texas. I think pamper my little Mamas is my hobby. I have 25 patients in a home for aged ladies and it is a great pleasure to care for them. I have enjoyed knowing and being with you both on this trip and I hope for the best for each of you."

"Nora Fowler, 5240 Vanderbilt,

Farm Boy's Favorite Toy—1935 Tractor

Off with a roar. To start the 1935 tractor, Rollin and his 13-year-old brother, Roy, wind a length of rope around the belt pulley and yank. Though not recommended, the method works.

HUTCHINS, TEX. — Like many youngsters, 15-year-old Rollin Heifrin is a natural born tinkerer. Give him a shiny new set of wrenches, and chances are you'll find him a little while later trying them out on his favorite "toy"—a farm tractor, vintage 1935.

In 1962 he found it parked in the weeds on some land he had rented for grazing the Heifrin family's three horses. Spade lugs for the tractor's big iron wheels were found in a nearby shed. He put them on and spent a month reconditioning the 29-year-old rig with the help of local garage mechanic, Billie Schultz.

Even his mother pitched in to help him find odd parts such as square bolts.

"With the new coat of paint I just gave it, the old Allis-Chalmers looks pretty good," said Rollin. "It runs good, too, except that the transmission must be worn because it seems to 'hang' in third gear."

In Milwaukee, Wis., the manufacturer dug out an old operator's manual and parts book from its archives to make it easier for him to work on the tractor.

Rollin has a unique way of starting the engine. Instead of using the hand crank to turn it over, he winds a 10-foot length of rope around the belt pulley and then pulls hard and fast to fire the engine. Though highly unconventional, the method works.

With the old tractor, Rollin and his 13-year-old brother, Roy, farm 97 acres of rented land. Earnings from crops of oats, wheat and hay, and from the sheep and cattle they graze are put aside for their education.

Born in Weatherford, Tex., Rollin's interests in farming dates back to a dairy farm his father, Roy, operated near Hutchins. Since moving to rural Hutchins, the youngster is extremely active in 4-H Club work. He was chosen one of the top three boys in Dallas County, which has about 2,500 4-H members.

His father now manages the grain elevator at Lancaster. Rollin has an older sister, Kathleen, 17.

Darrell Brown, assistant (Dallas) county agricultural agent, says of Rollin: "Chances are that he will go to the top in almost anything he makes up his mind to do."

His vocational agriculture instructor at Wilmer-Hutchins high school believes he is one of the best students he has had in 21 years of teaching.

Besides being able to maintain the antique Allis-Chalmers tractor in top shape, Rollin is also a good driver. He took first place in the Dallas county tractor driving contest in 1963, and went on to place second in the 19-county district meet. He ranked 10th in the state contest and was the youngest entrant.

Rollin takes special pride in a limerick he wrote for an English class:

I love my tractor with all my heart,
I hope that we will never part.
The engine it misses,
It fires and hisses
I just hope that next time it will start!

Only 29 years old and still going strong. Discussing fine points of the antique tractor are Rollin Heifrin and Darrell Brown, assistant (Dallas) county agent and 4-H counselor. Resurrected from a weed patch, the Allis-Chalmers model is used in Rollin's farm operation.
